

SLOW MOTION VIDEO AWARD 2016

“Slow Motion Images” can show us amazing and sometimes unexpected moves that our eyes cannot capture without high-speed cameras. Such cameras have been widely used for R&D in universities and industries and for introducing special effects in broad casting, cinema, and commercial films.

Nowadays, however, slo-mo imaging is no longer just for professionals. Modern consumer video cameras and even smartphones enable us all produce our own slo-mo videos.

Slo-mo videos can make us excited, smile, and even burst into laughter with artistic, touching, and humorous striking images, in addition to supporting new scientific discoveries. The potential of high-speed imaging is enormous!

To make the art more popular and to brush up the technical skills, we proudly propose the SLOW MOTION VIDEO AWARD.

Slow-motion videos taken by any cameras produced by any manufacturers are welcome. The winning pieces will be displayed to the public. Your application is eagerly awaited.
